Now.

Arise, for the day is passing

While you lie dreaming on;

Your brothers are eased in armor

And forth to the ranks are gone;

Your place in the ranks awaits you—

Each man has a part to play;

The past and the future are nothing

In the face of the stern to-day.

Arise from a dream of the future

Of gaining a hard-fought field,

Of storming the airy fortress,

Of bidding the giant to yield;

Your future has deeds of glory,

Of honor (God grant it may);

But your arm will never be stronger

Or needed as now—to-day.

Arise! if the past detain you,

The sunshine and storms forget;

No chains so unworthy to hold you

As those of a vain regret.

Sad or bright she is lifeless ever;

Cast her phantom arms away,

Nor look back, save to learn the lesson

Of a nobler strife to-day.

Arise, for the hour is passing;

The sound that you dimly hear

Is your enemy marching to battle—

Rise! rise! for the foe is near!

Stay not to brighten your weapons,

Or the hours will strike at last,

And from dreams of coming battle

You will awaken and find it past.

Land Decisions.

On January 30th, Secretary Chandler established the following principles in public land matters:

That the surveyor's return of the character of land is prima facie correct, and the burden of proof is upon him who alleges its incorrectness. In contests to determine the character of the land, any person who has knowledge thereof, whether he has any interest therein or not, is permitted to appear and testify in behalf of the surveyor's return. The right to tax lands of the United States, entered under homestead laws, does not accrue to the State until the expiration of the period of residence land cultivation, and until the final proof required by the law shall have been made and approved, and the final homestead certificate is issued. Where a homestead claim is sought to be cancelled for abandonment, where the party is in the penitentiary under sentence of imprisonment for a term of years, notice of contest must be served personally upon the complainant, if possible, if not possible, then by publication for twenty days. In case of the death of a party holding a certificate deposited for survey, and who had entered a homestead or pre-emption, said certificate may be used by his heirs in consummation of the pre-emption claim or in consideration of his homestead entry; but it cannot be received on behalf of any other party or for other land than that for the survay of which the deposit was made.

There is no provision for repayment of money deposited for survey, unless there is an excess over the cost of survay and office work.

Congressional Directory.

We have a copy of the first edition of the Congressional Directory of the session of the forty fourth Congress. In addition to large details of information concerning Congress, and connected offices and officers, the Directory contains, as usual, short sketches of the respective senators, representatives and delegates from the different States and Territories. As an item of interest we append the sketch relative to Hon.

Hiram S. Stevens, our present delegate in Congress. The Directory says:

H. S. Stevens, of Tucson, was born at Weston, Vermont, in 1832; received a common-school education there; removed to New Mexico in 1851, and in 1856 located in that part of New Mexico now known as Arizona; was a member of the Territorial Legislature of Arizona 1868-78, and was elected to the Forty-Fourth Congress as an independent candidate, receiving 1,442 votes against 1,076 votes for C. C. Bean, and 638 votes for John Smith.

The Great Race.

The old historic Continental Congress will be sure to attract much attention during the year upon which we have entered. Its first session began on the 5th of September, 1774, in Philadelphia, and until 1787 it held regular sessions in the following places: May 10, 1775, in Philadelphia; December 30, 1776, in Baltimore; March 4, 1777, in Philadelphia; September 27, 1777, in Lancaster,

Pa.; September 30, 1777, in York, Pa.;

July 2, 1778, in Philadelphia; June 30, 1783, in Lancaster, Pa.; November 1, 1783, in Annapolis, Md.; November 1, 1783, in Trenton, N. J.; January 11, 1785, and until the adoption of the Federal Constitution, in New York.

TO AND AT SAN CARLOS.

Roads—Stations—Hooker's Eureka Springs—San Carlos Indians, their Management and only Apprehen-

January 21, Governor Safford kindly gave us a seat in his buggy for a trip to Globe mining district, via San Carlos, but owing to an aggravated case of cold, we went no farther than San Carlos reservation—the Governor and party going to the mines as intended.

TO AND ABOUT TRES ALAMOS.

We traveled the new road from here to Tres Alamos, which passes Mountain station twenty-two miles east of Tucson, which is kept by Ramsey & Whalen. The station is new but has accommodations for man and beast with abundance of choice mountain water, grass and considerable cottonwood and other timber about. There is also a strong spring at the station, the water of which is noticeable for its iron quality. The road to this station is almost straight from Tucson, and about all save the last three miles, is level and may be termed very good; but from thence to Tres Alamos, eighteen miles, there are many ups and downs, some of which are sharp and would be difficult for loaded freight teams to pass over. The country along is one mat of grass, and the same may be said of all that eastward. We believe it is the average judgment that no time or horse-drawn is saved by going this route, and some well acquainted with both, prefer the old one via Cienega station. But experience will settle which one is the more economical.

At Tres Alamos are two excellent stations by C. M. Hooker & Co., and Thomas Dunbar; the former combining merchandising and dealing in grain with their station business, and the latter having the postoffice and mail station. The farmers have considerable land sown to grain and much more might be. The very successful public school taught there by Mrs.

Aguerre, is a subject of great interest and good. We understand there are but thirty children of school age in the neighborhood and twenty-eight of them attend. Latterly about half have been suffering with a severe cold, or something like the epizootic.

TRES ALAMOS TO O'REILLEY'S AND POINT

OF MOUNTAIN.

Leaving Tres Alamos, the road at once enters a large and dry arroyo in which it continues about fifteen miles, but ten miles up there is water two miles north of the road. The road continues in low but rising ground to the summit between San Pedro and Sulphur Spring valleys and to within probably five miles of O'Reilly's and eight of Steel & Co's Point of Moun-
